2. You may occupy a position of trust and confidence with the Company during your employment and you may acquire an intimate knowledge of proprietary and confidential information concerning the Company and its business. The data, details, information, plans including business plans and such or other information, which are disclosed to you or which you become privy to as part of your employment with the Company ("Trade Secrets" and "Confidential Information"), are proprietary to the Company and has special, unique and extraordinary value to the Company, and the Company would be irreparably damaged if you were to divulge the Company's trade secrets or confidential information to any person or entity outside the Company and / or who has not been authorized by the Company in writing to receive such trade secrets, confidential information or data or otherwise act in violation of the terms and conditions contained herein. You shall not, at any time during the term of your employment with the Company and thereafter (including following employee's termination of employment for any reason), disclose, use, transfer or sell, except in the course of employment with, or providing other service to, the Company, any confidential or proprietary information of the Company and its subsidiaries. You shall keep confidential all the information and material provided to you by the Company or by its clients concerning their affairs, in order to enable the Company to perform the service. Your obligation to keep such information confidential shall survive on termination or cancellation of this appointment.

3. You further acknowledge that you shall not share, disseminate, copy, transfer, host, upload or otherwise deal with the confidential information and any proprietary information of the Company without the express written permission of the Company.

4. You acknowledge that all inventions, innovations, discoveries, improvements, developments, methods, know-how, designs, analyses, drawings, reports and all similar or related information (whether or not patentable) which (i) relate to the then current business or any anticipated business of the Company, the Company's research and development or the Company's existing or future services or products and (ii) are conceived, developed or made by you during and in the scope of his employment by the Company ("Work Product") belong to the Company. You shall promptly disclose such Work Product to the Company and perform all actions reasonably requested by the Company (whether during or after his period of employment with the Company) to establish and confirm such ownership (including the execution of assignments, consents, powers of attorney and other instruments).

5. You acknowledge that all work done and / or generated during the course of your employment, records and documents containing confidential or proprietary information of the Company or its subsidiaries prepared by you or coming into your possession by virtue of your employment by the Company are and will remain the property of the Company and its respective subsidiaries. Upon termination of your employment with the Company, you shall immediately return to the Company all such items and all copies of such items, in your possession and certify in writing that you have not retained and / or do not have in your possession or custody (which includes the possession or custody of persons associated with you or deriving such possession or custody through you). The Company shall be entitled to initiate appropriate legal action against you and persons claiming through you, in the event of a breach or violation of your above representation.

6. You shall not, directly or indirectly, or through any third party, solicit business from any customer of the Company for a period of one year after the date of termination of your employment with the Company. You shall not divulge the Company's trade secrets and / or confidential information during your employment and for a minimum period of 5 years thereafter to any third part or to any person or entity, who has not been authorized by the Company in writing to receive such trade secrets, confidential information or data.

7. You are prohibited from engaging in any activity that interferes with your performance or responsibilities to the Company or is otherwise in conflict with or prejudicial to the Company. Our policies prohibit any employee from accepting simultaneous employment with any other Company.

8. You shall not, at any time during the term of your employment with the Company and thereafter, make statements or representations, or otherwise communicate, directly or indirectly, in writing, orally or otherwise, or take any action which may, directly or indirectly, disparage or be damaging to the Company or any of its subsidiaries or affiliates or their respective officers, directors, employees, advisors, businesses or reputations. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing stated herein shall preclude you from making truthful statements or disclosures that are required by applicable law, regulation or legal process.

III. Termination of employment:

1. You may resign from your employment by giving us not less than 3 months' notice in writing. In the event of your resignation by giving an advance notice of less than 3 (three) months or your requesting the Company to relieve you before the completion of the notice period of 3 (three) months, you shall be liable to pay the Company remuneration in lieu of the period for which the notice is not served or the period of notice that remains unserved. However, in any case acceptance of your resignation and relieving shall be subject to completion of all other hand over procedures as stipulated by the Company.

2. The Company is entitled to terminate without cause, your employment by giving an advance written notice of 1 (one) month or payment of remuneration in lieu thereof.

3. The Company reserves the right to terminate your employment at any time without notice, pay in lieu of notice, or severance pay, or other liability in the event it has reasonable grounds to believe you are guilty of misconduct, negligence, causing fundamental breach of the terms of your employment, or causing loss to the Company;

4. Upon cessation of employment, any and all Company property, including but not limited to access credentials, documents, mobile phones, computers, email IDs, and the data stored on them, must be immediately surrendered to the Company.

Please signify your acceptance of this Employment Agreement and the terms and conditions set out herein by signing the original of this letter where indicated below, and return it to the Company on the first date of employment stated above.

We look forward to having you join our team and anticipate a long and fruitful relationship together.

Sincerely,
